

I have heard that
Sinclair Broadcasting has made a decision to force their stations
to air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election.

This is a clear
example of the dangers of media
consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free
of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies
control the
airwaves, we get more of what's good
for the bottom line
and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something
produced at "News Central" far away,
it's more important
that we see real people from our own
communities and more
substantive news
about issues that matter.

I feel the FCC must act to control this kind of excess.

Thank you.
